FLUORINE PROGRAM KAYOED SAYS HEALTH DEPT.

The Town of Wilmington has advised the Massachusetts Department of Public Health that a proposed survey of Wilmington, to determine the results of its fluoridation program, will be valueless.

The State wanted to make such a survey, Public Health Officer Patrick Thibau stated Monday night, but it has now been called off.

Thibau told the Dept. of Health that since the 19th of August the required amount of fluorine, in the town's water supply had been found only on four occasions. 'I have stopped making tests - it's no use' he stated.

Several reports of the lack of fluorine in the water supply are supposed to have been made to the Water Department, but with no replies, according to Thibau.

CALL OFF SEARCH FOR BANDIT GUN

Wilmington and Wakefield skin divers have called off the search for a missing .38 caliber revolver, in the Ipswich River, at Jenks Bridge, in East Wilmington. The search was called off at 3:30 pm yesterday, by Police Chiefs Paul Lynch of Wilmington and Roland Mansfield of Saugus, who, with State Trooper Arthur Jowett of the Essex County District Attorney's office were directing the two day search.

Found Tuesday, almost immediately after the search started, was a pearl-handled .38 caliber revolver, lying in four feet of water upstream during a holdup in a Saugus Clothing Store, told the Police that he had thrown the .38 pistol into the water as he and a companion sped through Wilmington, following the murder.

His companion, who has not been identified by the Police, threw the other pistol into the water on the downstream side of the bridge, according to the story Porter is supposed to have told the police. Porter was quoted as saying that he heard the splash, after the pistol was thrown.

Only a used .38 caliber shell was found Wednesday, in a day

MUD CONFERENCE

Skin divers conferring, after searching through mud three feet deep, at Jenks bridge yesterday afternoon. Leaning on the fence are Willis Lefavour, president of Wilmington's Seacraft Co, and Cal Greenfield of the Crystal Auto Body Co in Wakefield.

Back to the camera is Bob Griffen of Wakefield and Harold Hubby, also of Seacraft.

The second man, leaning against the car, is Ed Rideout of Truman Road, WBZ Lowell area correspondent. His movie camera may be seen behind Hubby.

The spot where the gun was found co-incided with the description allegedly given to the Essex D. A.'s office by Norman A. Porter, of 2 Garden Street, Woburn.

Porter, who was arrested last Saturday in upstate New York, and who is said to be one of a trio of bandits who shot John Pigott of Lynn on Sept. 16th long search. It was asserted that the shell was one thrown by the fleeing bandits.

Search was hampered by three feet or more of mud, at the bottom of the pool downstream from the bridge.

Half a dozen skin divers searched all day, aided by a powerful light which was furnished by Wilmington's Civil Defense organization.

KNIGHT BROTHERS BREAK BILLERICA TRACK RECORD

Ronald Knight, 100 Andover Street, and his brother Dick broke the existing track record, at Billerica High School Tuesday afternoon, in interschool long distance running.

Ronald, a High School Junior, ran the 2.2 mile course in 11 minutes 25 seconds. The old record was 12 minutes 5 seconds.

His brother, who came in second, also broke the record with a time of 11 minutes and 30 seconds.

The Knight brothers took first and second place in the cross country run, and Stephen Meads, 149 Main Street came in at ninth place.

The cross country race was the only event in the meet. Billerica defeated Wilmington by a score of 35 to 25.

FRANKLIN RESIGNS AS URBAN RENEWAL DIRECTOR

James W. Franklin, Urban Renewal Director for the Wilmington Housing Authority resigned his position, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Franklin told the Authority that he would always be available to assist in any way on any question that may arise. Commenting on a report in a daily paper that he had been appointed Director in Andover, at a salary of $10,000 a year he said that the report was 'premature'. He has been offered the position, he told the Authority, but as of the moment that was all.

TWO PIGGERIES MUST CLOSE

10 LICENSES GRANTED

Two of Wilmington's piggeries have been given until the 31st day of December to close down operations.

The Department of Health, meeting Monday night, refused to renew two licenses, both for piggeries in the northern part of the town.

Neither of the licensees had responded to letters and no-

ABIGAIL'S ISLAND AGAIN OPENED FOR WILMINGTON RESIDENTS

Abigail's Island, behind the new Town Garage, off Andover Street, has again been opened as a dump, for the disposal of brush, by Wilmington residents only.

It was closed six weeks ago by the Board of Water Commissioners, when debris other than wood was reported to have been dumped there. The island stands in the middle of Mud Pond, part of the town water shed.

While it has been opened to Wilmington residents no one else will be allowed to use the dump, and nothing but brush will be allowed. The brush, it is understood, will be burned during suitable weather, by the Tree Department.

Members of the Department of Health have denied any prior knowledge of the closing of the dump, some six weeks ago.

Survey Party

A survey party, two weeks ago went over Wilmington in an effort to find a suitable place to burn wood, and similar materials, in a public dump.

It is forbidden to burn wood in the Town Dump, operated by Clarence Spinazola of Woburn.

In the party were Town Manager Cecil Lancaster, Prof. Herbert Nickerson of Marie Drive, who is on the Planning Board, and is District Engineer for the (Mass) Northeastern Health District, Town Sanitarian Pat Thibau, Gus Walker, Chairman of the Health Department, and Eddie Sargent, Superintendent of the Water

GOLF COURSE PROPONENTS

Harold E. Melzar, Chairman of the Water Board (back to camera) questions the three proponents of a golf course, off Chestnut St., at a Board of Appeals hearing last Thursday.

Facing the camera are Ed Comer of Woburn, Atty Edward McDuffy of Reading, and Elwin Hovey of Wilmington, backers of the proposed course. Peering over Comer's shoulder is Tom Galvin, owner of some of the land that the trio would buy.

(See the advertisement on page 6, this issue, asking for the popular re-action to the proposal for a golf course in Wilmington.)

BENEVENTO STRIKE CONTINUES

One Man Picket Line

Some Benevento gravel trucks are in operation, in spite of the fact that a picket line is still maintained in front of the main entrance to the gravel plant off Salem Street. Tom Strickland, formerly of Brentwood Ave., Wilmington, now a resident of North Reading maintained a lone picket line Tuesday afternoon, although, he reports, he at times has companions on the line.

Mr. Strickland stated that the National Labor Relations Board has been asked to hold a ballot vote, and that the date has been set, he understood, for Oct. 26th.

Some of the employees had returned to work, Strickland stated.

The cement company trucks, operated from the same plant, were using a driveway other than the main driveway, Tuesday

IT'S NOT ALL BITTER BREW

Our planning experts tell us that by the year 1970 Wilmington High School will be bursting at the seams, in providing educations for the High School students of that day. There will be no classes in our High School which will not be of High School level, as is the case today.

From a viewpoint of the town's economy this might sound like a bitter brew, i.e. we must have more revenue (taxes) to support a larger school population.

From a viewpoint of education however, the picture will be vastly improved. The brew need not be better.

With a large enrollment our educators will be able to pick and choose more. They will be able to provide classes which will be graded according to the native ability of the student. There will be no necessity for including in some classes pupils who barely qualify in intellectual ability just because there is no other class available to them.

Such students tend to drag down the level of a class. Our educators know this - but have had no alternative, because there have been too few students in any one High School class to divide it into the desired number of grades, in which each student could be challenged to his utmost.

That, of course, is the desire of each and every educator, and of most parents.

And we are fast approaching the point where Wilmington High School will be able to provide just this challenge.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

Many thoughts may be expressed because a Wilmington High School senior has placed in the "Semi-Finalist" class in the National Merit Scholarships, a foundation provided by many of our larger industries.

First of course is to congratulate the young man. He has placed himself in the top 1% of our High School seniors in the country. In Massachusetts, let it be noted, the cut-off point is always higher than in other states of the union, which adds laurels to the students from this state who finally pass.

Everyone hopes that the young man will do as well, in the final examination, which comes on Dec. 3rd.

Then there are congratulations to the Wilmington Public School system, for producing such a youngster. It is the first time we have such a scholar, and considering our limited population and budget we have done well. (One of our Seniors, last year, won such a scholarship, but his education was in another community, and he took the exam in that community).

And, of course, everyone hopes that this is just a beginning for Wilmington, and that in the years to come we will have not one but several finalists every year.

It might be of some interest to make some comparisons with other communities.

A Lowell newspaper which claims a "Greater Lowell" area reported that there were eight semi-finalists in "Greater Lowell", two of them from Lowell (population somewhere under 100,000). This was by virtue of claiming towns and cities quite well removed from that city, including Wilmington. Eight students, in an area of between 200 and 300 thousand people.

Let us imagine we have a "Greater Wilmington" and report accordingly. We would show:

Reading, with a population of 18,000, 5. This is a remarkable record - a distinct honor to that town and its schools.

Billerica 1, Andover High School 2. In Andover there are two private academies, and they had: Abbot Academy 2, Phillips Andover 23.

In towns once removed from Wilmington, (the same relationship which was claimed for "Greater Lowell"); Lexington 9, Winchester 9, Arlington 6, and Lowell 2, Lawrence 2.

In Eastern Massachusetts we had: Newton 13, Sharon 6, Thayer Academy 5, Gov. Dummer Academy 4, West Roxbury Latin 6, Groton 6, Needham 7, Boston College High 4, and Boston Latin 8.

MacMillan, MacMillan,

We're much more than willin'

To hark to your quips and your jibes.

You expose the vulture

And bring forth deep chuckles, besides.

Those towns which are really interested in providing a good education (and the private schools too) were the ones with the biggest list of winners. In the cities where education is only egalitarian the list was smallest. There is a lesson there.

TRAVEL NOTE

We have been many places in the Caribbean area. We have transited the Panama Canal something over 200 times. But we have never been to an island which is some 170 miles southwest of Cuba, known as Grand Cayman.

We mention the place because we read in a Boston paper the other day that it is now possible to fly to Grand Cayman from Miami for the sum of $59.

Grand Cayman has long sandy beaches, and until recently was never visited by travellers. The men, all of English descent, go to sea to make a living.

We have been shipmates with many men from the Caribbean Islands, particularly with men from Saba, which is a Dutch-owned island some 90 miles Southeast of Puerto Rico. The Saba islanders can cuss. They can do either plain or fancy cussing.

But they can't measure up to the Grand Caymaners. For all out cussing, the men from Grand Cayman hold the championship.

We recall one trip through the Panama Canal, when, as we were locking through one of the locks the pilot pointed at the dock-master and told us that he was the "best" cusser in the entire Canal Zone. Naturally, we asked if he was from Grand Cayman, and, as we expected, the pilot said he was.

Now, as we said, for the sum of $59, one can fly to Grand Cayman, where the beaches are 20 miles long, and the men hold the world's championship for plain and fancy cussing.

TOWN NOTES

First Frost

Chalk up the date of Oct. 1st as the date for the first killing frost, in 1960. We think it will be a long time before we see such a late date again.

Early goes to church, Sunday had to scrape the frost from the windshields, a most unaccustomed exercise, and the cranberry bog on Shawsheen Ave was flooded, to protect those cranberries remaining.

A large crew had been picking all afternoon, Saturday, but they did not quite finish.

The 35 Hour Week

We met an opponent to the idea of a thirty five hour week the other day. The gentleman wasn't concerned with laws or union agreements, he was concerned with the health of his patients.

It was Dr. John Marshall, of Lowell Street. Dr. Marshall observed that many men of Wilmington, now on 40 hour weeks, work on two jobs.

If they get on 35 hour weeks he is afraid that they will go for three different jobs, and 105 hours a week work is not a good thing, the Doc believes.

Near Miss

Albert T. D'India Jr., of Adelman Road, No. Wilmington has written his folks to say that he was very near the site in Germany, where that shell exploded, about a month ago, killing 16 GIs.

D'India, who is stationed at Grafenwoehr, in Germany, lived in a tent that was adjacent to the area where the shell landed. The group was on maneuvers at the time.

D'India enlisted last October and is a PFC in the Second Airborne Division, 48th Infantry.

Those Cheerleaders

One of the best sights to be seen at any game today are the young ladies who form the Cheerleaders, for Wilmington.

At the Billerica game they were superb.

After watching them who would want to watch the Rockettes?

The band kept them going, during most of the game, in a wonderful demonstration of good music and good line-dancing. Not only were the Wilmington fans entranced, but so were the Billerica fans.

It's only fair to report that the Billerica girls were just as good, in their own way.

They didn't form a chorus line, as did our girls, but their cheering was topnotch.

$9,999,999.99

We hear that somebody in the Avco Treasury Dept made out a check, the other day, for a Woburn concern, and by the time that the mechanical check writer had got through with the job the check was made out for $9,999,999.99.

But that's not the story. The story is that check was okayed by two or three people, before it was mailed.

Somebody in Avco must be having a red face!

The Luck of the Irish

Fran Murphy, up in Hathaway Acres, could be described as the man with the rabbit's foot after what happened to him last week.

Last Thursday his Mrs. asked that he take her to a clothing store (Robert Hall's). Fran for perverse Irish reasons refused. That was the night of the holdup, and murder, but Fran wasn't there.

Next day on his way to work in Somerville he stopped in for a doughnut and cup of coffee. Fran lingered for a moment - lucky Fran!

In that moment that he lingered a Fire Truck rounded the corner, and hit a concrete lamp post. The lamppost flew through the air in a curved arc, and landed on top of Fran's car.

Had he been in it he would have been killed.

Fran, incidentally, bought the car on Friday the 13th.

mystery within the mystery, and Chief of Police Paul Lynch is cudgeling his brains over a really unimportant item.

Paul, whose finger nails have grown considerably shorter as a result, is trying to remember which one of his Gendarmes offered to bet that one of the weapons used in the Saugus holdup would be found at Jenks Bridge.

It was in a bantering moment shortly after news of the holdup-murder had been broadcast, that one of the coppers in the station made the statement.

Paul's idea is to promote the man to Detective, for his remarkable Hercule Poirot deduction - but if he asks who was the man who made the statement he is afraid all would volunteer.

And Paul doesn't want a Mexican Army Police Department - all detectives and no cops.

The senior Choir, meets for rehearsal every Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. and sings regularly at the 10:45 a.m. services of worship.

ACTIVE TB CASE FOUND IN WILMINGTON

A Wilmington man is being cared for in the Waltham Hospital, as an active case of tuberculosis. Health Agent Patrick Thibeau reported to the Health Department Monday night.

The man, a Veteran, is Wilmington's only case of 'active' TB, although there are several 'arrested' cases.

Thibeau told the Health Dept. that he had been in a Boston Hospital when his illness was diagnosed, and that Boston had charged Wilmington $60 a week for care of the patient.

Thibeau had him transferred to the Waltham hospital, where the charge to the town is only $1.50 a day, and where the State reimburses the Town for the amount of $5 a week.

Thibeau will have the man transferred as soon as possible to a Veteran's Hospital, where the town will not be liable for any charge, he told the Board.

His responsibilities in the local church will be teaching a high school class at 11 a.m. working with the adult counsellors and the youth of the various fellowship groups, and leadership training with the church school staff.

His wife Patricia is a registered nurse, graduating from the Methodist Hospital in Mitchell, South Dakota. At the present time she is enrolled for a Bachelor of Science degree at Boston University School of Nursing, and serving on the staff of the Deaconess Hospital.

The couple were introduced to the congregation last Sunday and will begin their duties, Sunday, October 9.

Mr. Harding has reminded members of the congregation that new members will be received into the fellowship of the Church on Reformation Sunday, October 30. All persons wish to counsel with him concerning their church affiliation are invited to do so at their convenience. A series of Churchmanship Seminars are being planned in conjunction with the new membership class.

JON MEADS PRESIDENT OF SENIOR CLASS

Jon Meads, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Meads, 149 Main Street was elected President of the Senior Class, in Wilmington High School, Tuesday afternoon. Always active in class affairs, Meads was a member of practically every committee in his class while a Junior. He is a good student (National Merit Scholarship Letter of Merit) and is a member of the varsity team, in football.

Elected vice president was George Szadis, 19 Lloyd Road, and Treasurer, Diana Imbibo, (fourth year), of Cottage St. and Secretary Barbara Lynch.

MAN SELLING LAND IN WILMINGTON SQUARE

The Boston & Maine Railroad is selling two parcels of land in and near Wilmington Square, plans which were filed with the Planning Board Tuesday night reveal.

31,956 square feet of land is being sold to Bessie and Meyer Cohen, at the Wilmington Grain and Feed company. The two own the company.

Daniel Gillis refused to sign the plan, even though it was pointed out that it was merely for record, because the plan showed an 'overhanging roof' and he held that this constituted a Planning Board approval.

The second plan submitted went unsigned, on a technicality.

It was for the transfer of 54,000 sq ft., including the site where the old 'round-house' once stood, to the Wilmington Builder's Supply Co.

The land does not front on any accepted street and is consequently technically 'landlocked'.

The board would not sign unless it was stated on the plan or shown by a broken line that the land was to become a part of the same parcel which the Wilmington Builder's Supply now owns, facing on Main St.

THE FIRESTATION IS STILL ON A RIGHT OF WAY

Wilmington's Fire Station, inadvertently built on a Right of Way nearly 10 years ago, is still on that same right of way, if a plan submitted by the Middlesex County National Bank to the Planning Board Tuesday night, is correct.

The Town Meeting, several years ago instructed the Selectmen to 'trade' the right of way for Olson Street, which was accepted by the Town at the same meeting.

The plan, which covered all the property owned by the Middlesex Bank near Wilmington Square, shows that the bank owns land under the Fire Station, including that part of the office where the Fire Chief has his desk.

Mr. and Mrs. David A. Brown Jr. of King Street have returned home after a four week visit with relatives in California.

GOLF COURSE DECISION MAY TAKE SIXTY DAYS

Sixty days may elapse before a decision is finally made, on an appeal of last Thursday evening for the right to establish a golf course, off Chestnut Street.

The appeal was heard before the Board of Appeals, with Chairman Louis E. Gage presiding.

The Wilmington Planning Board represented by Joseph J. Slater, notified the Board of Appeals that it would 'probably' give a written opinion. The Planning Board has sixty days in which to give such a decision, and the Appeal Board may not give a decision until such a written opinion is received, although it is not bound by law to agree with any opinion of the Planning Board.

Slater's attitude during the hearing indicated that he was sympathetic towards the idea of a golf course in So. Wilmington.

The appeal was presented by Atty Edward McDuffy of Reading. Mr. McDuffy is one of the three men who are planning the course, on the Bell Farm, the other two being Edward J. Comer of Woburn, and Elwin Hovey of Glen Road, Wilmington.

Without exception all the abutting neighbors were in favor of the proposal, although there were a few questions asked.

The Chairman of the Water Commissioners, Harold E. Melzar, appeared to ask enough questions to satisfy himself that there would be no threat to a proposed water supply in the neighborhood.

He and Mr. Blake, also of the Water Board, were told that the proposed golf course would be watered by a supply that came from springs, on the land and that the water will all be returned to the ground.

Millard Pipes, owner of the Bell Farm, told the Board that he was not selling his home, 'for three or four years at least'.

Ed Comer, speaking for his partners, told the board 'We would like to keep it as much as possible for the people of Wilmington.'

He pointed out that there are many golfers at Avco, and thought that the course would be an asset to the town.

The proposed course will have a minimum of 175 acres, with off-street parking, a clubhouse, a pro-shop, and perhaps tennis courts, the Appeal Board was told.

It will be on both sides of Chestnut Street, extending up into the valley known as 'The Garden of Eden'. Nine holes are proposed for each side of Chestnut Street.

LETTERS

18 Gunderson Road
 October 3, 1960

Dear Larz,

Due to an article that appeared in the Town Crier last week, there are many people who are under the impression that a League of Women Voters is being formed in Wilmington. I would like to take this opportunity to correct any misconceptions that may have occurred regarding the formation of a local league.

Although there is a great deal of interest in starting a Wilmington League this year, at the present time it seems advisable to wait until we have had some experience in another league. A number of Wilmington women have joined the Reading League with this long range idea in mind and are gaining valuable experience.

Very truly yours
 (Mrs.) Barbara Sullivan

Dear Larz,

I see you've been getting quite a lot of letters lately, and I think that's fine. It sure improves the paper to have some good writing in it.

With this in mind I would suggest you get more of your readers to do your writing for you. One advantage would be that then they could read something they could agree with.

I have written out a sample of the sort of thing I have in mind, which is an essay. It was suggested by Pickwick Papers, or Burke's Conciliation of America, or--oh it was those Spectator Papers. That's what we should have more of. I knew it was something in my educational background. I never quite understood them, but we should have more of them.

This is called 'Education from the Inside Out', and there are two meanings to that title. It's tricky.

First it's about how school looks to you after you get back into it after being out for many long years when all you heard was what was wrong with our schools.

Second, and this is very technical, it's about what makes a subject interesting. It is what the teacher does with it? No. Is it the subject itself? No. The only place where the interest can be felt is right inside the student's own head. So, that gives us a good clue about how to find a subject interesting. First, you roll out the red carpet. You might as well make it feel welcome. Then you arrange the inside of your head so that the subject feels comfortable. Just be polite to it. Maybe you don't think much of it, but you shouldn't kick it right out. Give it a chance. Then you start getting acquainted with it. Well, you get talking back and forth, you and the subject, and after a while, if you are patient and polite enough, you suddenly realize that the subject is interesting.

That seems simple enough if you go about it the right way the thing I am wondering is how to make it work for Beginning Bookkeeping. Assets equal liability plus capital. That seems simple, and I don't know why I never picked up that part about debits on the left and credits on the right in the 'Do It Yourself' course I gave myself. Must be the teacher comes in somewhere. Well I've got the first lesson down pat. Assets minus liability equals capital. Assets are what you own, liabilities are what you owe. The teacher told us that so many times in so many different ways that it's stuck. You try to get your mind on to other things, like washing dishes. What happens? You pick up a glass. Do you think about how clean this kind of detergent will get the glass? No. You think about how you own the glass and how it is an asset. Then you just happen to think about what was in the glass. Maybe it was orange juice that you charged at the store. Now that presents a real problem. Before it was drunk that orange juice was a liquid asset. Now it's gone, but the liability is still there. The teacher said something about liquid assets--you list them first. Now I can see there is more to this than I thought. Back to school I go for the second lesson, and by golly, I'll get A--or else. Or else I know I'll go broke if I don't learn bookkeeping.

Note to Editor: you may have had better letters than this, but at least this one is different. Will you print it if I sign it.

ANONYMOUS?

That 'withheld by request' is so drab.

Ed. Note: We never print anonymous letters, just throw toward the wastebasket. This, we agree is different, and we are making our one and only exception. Please don't write us any more.

SENIOR YOUTH FELLOWSHIP PLANS WORK DAY

The Senior High Youth Fellowship of the Wilmington Methodist Church has made plans for a Work Day to be held on Wed, October 12. The young people will offer their services to families of the community to wash windows, rake leaves, paint, baby sit, whatever jobs they can do. The money they earn during the day will go toward their trip being planned to the United Nations and Washington, D.C.

ATTENTION, PLEASE!

The management of the proposed country club, off Chestnut Street, desirous of public reactions to their proposal, to establish a golf course and other public recreational facilities in Wilmington solicit your kind indulgence.

WILMINGTON WALLOPS BILLERICA TO A STANDSTILL

0-0 SCORE

It's always the same. Wilmington starts the season off by losing to Burlington, which is a team of equal strength, and then next week tears into Billerica as though the members were what they proclaim to be - Wildcats.

Last Saturday's match, in the Memorial Field in Billerica was one of the hardest fought in Massachusetts that day, although it did not get much mention in the Boston newspapers.

The underdog Wilmington boys covered themselves with glory, as they fought Billerica to a standstill. The game ended with the ball a tantalizing one foot from the Wilmington Goal Line, and Coach Fred Ballissimo protesting to the high heavens that it had gone over the line.

Both teams were on edge, and most of the plays, from the spectator's viewpoint, was a mass of hands and feet coming out of a mountain of football players.

Defensively both teams were wonderful. Offensively both were weak. Billerica probably would have scored if it's Quarterback had not tried to cover himself with a little personal glory.

Billerica had several 10 yard penalties, for clipping, and both teams fumbled the ball at times.

Wilmington's linemen kept getting through the Billerica line, to stop plays. Kevin Fields, Jon Meads and the Old Spiller, Eddie Woods, did this with Eddie making a double in two successive plays in the fourth quarter, to nail Billerica carriers in back of their own line.

On the other hand Billerica players forced their way thru the Wilmington line on several occasions, notably during the beginning of the second half.

Frank Duffina, playing guard grabbed a fumble by Billerica at the end of the second quarter, and with Greg Phillips and Frank Munroe carrying, the ball was advanced 15 yards, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Frank Munroe was the fair-haired boy, during the early part of the third quarter, as upset the Billerica carriers in three successive plays, but Billerica managed to gain 18 yards.

Capt. Eddie Casey intercepted a Billerica forward pass, in the last of the third quarter, to recover the ball for Wilmington down on its own 20 yard line, but in the next play quarterback Jimmy Melzar was unable to find a receiver and was forced to run, finally making 13 yards.

Billerica shortly got the ball by hard line work holding the Wilmington players. Greg Phillips and Kevin Fields, trapping Billerica behind their own lines, forced the Billerica line back, and they were finally forced to kick at their own 35 yard line. Dave Huston received the ball, and advanced five yards before being downed.

Billerica again intercepted, and there followed one of the wildest plays of the game, when roving Wilmington backs and ends had a wild chase after the Billerica ball carrier all over the Billerica 36 yard line, with Jon Meads bringing Cuneo, the Billerica quarterback low.

A few plays later, with QB Jimmy Melzar again looking for a receiver he was simultaneously hit by all four Billerica backs, who had gone through the Wilmington line.

It was shortly after this that Eddie Woods got his 'old spoiler' play into action. In the second instance he forced the Billerica carrier offside at the 50 yard line, and the Referee then added insult to injury by imposing a 20 yard penalty to Billerica for clipping.

The big moment of the game was in the last few minutes of play, Dave Huston intercepted an aerial, down on Wilmington's 10 yard line, just when things looked at their bleakest.

He made a spectacular dash up the left side of the field, and wasn't downed until he had gained 25 yards.

Greg Phillips then followed with another dash that brought the ball to the five yard line and Wilmington was sitting on top - with only 1 minute remaining.

Four plays later Wilmington was still trying to break the Billerica line. Munroe got through, to be tackled at the one foot line, just as the whistle blew. The game was over - but not the arguments, for the referee ruled that the ball had been pushed over the line after it touched the ground, and coach Fred Bellisimo is still not convinced.

roe had pushed the ball over the line, after it had first touched one foot short of winning

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Mrs. Marks New Friends Pres. The Executive Board of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital has elected Mrs. George A. Marks, of Winchester, President to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Robert Kroepsch.

Mrs. Marks, well-known for her leadership and driving energy in many of our community projects, has gamely taken up the challenge of heading an organization now numbering in excess of 700 and voluntarily performing 15 services for the Winchester Hospital. Though the organization is now ten years old, it continues to grow and expand as it paces the growth and expansion of the hospital itself.

As Mrs. Kroepsch resigns her association with the Friends, she leaves a record of the greatest number of volunteer hours performed and the largest membership in its history.

Residents and newcomers to Wilmington, Reading, Winchester, and surrounding communities are cordially invited to learn about the organization by contacting Mrs. Ernest MacDougall, OL 8-4432.

The picture, taken on Ektachrome, with a press camera, is entitled 'Low Intensity Plasma', and is a picture of a simulated re-entry of a Nose Cone, manufactured by Avco for Intercontinental Missiles.
